Purely Business!

The columns of a newspaper represent a cash value. No publisher can afford to give advertising "notices" free any more than a merchant can toss over his counter free gifts of dry goods or shoes. A newspaper is a legitimate business concern. Its columns are its stock in trade, and advertisements should be paid for, no matter in what part of the paper they appear.

"In so far as implying that the Pope will use his offices to aid Spain as against this country," said he, "the suggestion is as infamous as the first mentioned one.
